Greenwood town is to have a big fourth of July celebration and the merchants and business men have made up a lot of prizes and they are going to have a big celebration and thus keep the town on the map as one of the live and progressive cities of the State.

There is one consolation to the young men who go to the Mexican border, they will not have the hardships which met the men who marched away just 55 years ago. The improvements in caring for the men are so great that they can be better cared for.

It is gratifying to see that all the candidates for governor are placing the campaign on a high plane and are not indulging in personalities, but are discussing issues, and of course the records of those who have records to discuss. We hope it may continue that way to the end.

We notice that Gov. Manning says that the asylum has been made the "football" of politics for the last few years and that conditions there have been terrible. If he is not endeavoring to make political capital out of the institution now we do not know what he is doing, and we cannot understand why he should be talking so much about what he has done and how bad things were before and snowing where he gave his personal note to increase the pay of the superintendent and how he paid the same out of his own pocket. We are not prepared to believe all that is said about conditions before and conditions now.

The editor of the Greenwood Index attended the opening meeting of the campaign at Spartanburg and to tell who was the leading candidate for governor actually took note by the watch of the length of the applause given each of the candidates. The editor concludes that Cooper was the favorite. Others say that Manning was the favorite and still others say it was Blease. It all depends largely upon the viewpoint and the feeling of the man who takes note of the applause and who is his favorite. We call the attention of the editor of the Press and Banner to the fact that according to the Spartanburg papers Gov. Manning carried Spartanburg again.

Gov. Manning issues a call for 1,000 volunteers to complete the regiments now mobilizing at Styx.

Capt. Joe Werts is doing a fine piece of work on Friend street from Caldwell toward the depot. We hope he will be permitted to extend the good work on to the depot. It is greatly needed.

The Anderson Daily Mail of Saturday carries the following paragraph in reporting the speech of Gov. Manning at the campaign meeting that day:

"Some one asked about his appointment of negroes as notary public. Appointed some, on recommendation of county delegations not knowing they were negroes. He has revoked these commissions and will not appoint any more negroes to office."

The Greenville News staff correspondent on this part of the speech says:

"When the governor concluded there arose a chorus of shouts for Blease. 'Havrah for Coley' was heard all about the stand. Mr. Manning smilingly took his seat, and then in answer to a question, explained that there were no negro notaries in the State today; that upon the recommendation of Newberry legislative officers he had appointed one, but later finding that the notary was unworthy, had revoked his commission, and also the commission of certain other notaries he had issued."

This statement of the governor seems to be a rather hard lick to at least three members of the Newberry delegation. He says he appointed negroes not knowing they were negroes on the recommendation of the county legislative officers. The senator from Newberry, under date of April, 1 sent a long letter to a number of gentlemen in Newberry explaining that Sam Nance was appointed on the recommendation of himself and Representatives Mower and Chapman. We cannot believe that these gentlemen fooled the governor or even tried to fool him, and there must be some mistake about his not knowing the appointee was a negro. But he is just as worthy today as he was when he was appointed and has done nothing since to make him unworthy that we have heard, and yet the governor says he has revoked the commission of all negro notaries. Why?

We judge from the reports of the meeting as published in the daily papers that the governor failed to carry Anderson on Saturday. The esteemed Press and Banner will please take note of this.

Mrs. Miller's demonstration of last week was a decided success. Quite a number of housewives have bought and will be saved the drudgery connected with the cooking of food and have more time to spare for other things.

We have kept the maid, who assisted Mrs. Miller, for this week, and if you would like to see how good food is when cooked in the Fireless Cooker just 'phone 160 what time you would like to have a roast or chicken cooked and we will cook it for you.

Come in any time and we will be glad to show you how you can save 80 per cent of your fuel and reduce your provision bill by using an Ideal Fireless Cooker.

TO OUR FATHER J. LUTHER WILLIAMS

Some fifteen dreary years ago,
When I was young and small,
My papa joined the Red Men,
Twas some time in the fall.

My mother did not like it much,
Said times were hard and blue,
But papa thought it was the best,
And made a Red Man true.

Now, just about one year ago,
When grain was in the head
My father, dear, was paralyzed
And forced to stay in bed.

It looked as if our lives were left
For nothing but regrets,
All gone to rack, with nothing left
To pay our honest debts.

But Otto K., that prince of men,

Found out we were distressed,
One silent word he spoke and then
The Red Men did the rest.

Yes, night and day their helping hands
Did all that they could do,
Our hearts with gratitude will cling
Unto those men so brave and true.

Through all our days of anguish
They were our help and guide,
In caring for our father
Until the day he died.

I know no lodge, of other kind,
Nor what such honors bring,
But, this one thing I'm proud to say,
Each "Red Man" is a king.

That father was a Red man,
Is memory, sweet to me,
And I'll be a Pocahontas
As soon as I can be.

Lucille Williams.
